DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to communications: Application filed on 3/16/01, foreign priority papers filed on 3/16/01, and IDS filed on 3/16/01.
2. Claims 1-9 are pending in the case. Claims 1, 4, and 7 are independent claims.

Priority

3. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

4. The references listed in the Information Disclosure Statement filed on 3/16/01 have been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hill (USPN 6,023,714 – filed 04/1997) in view of Birrell et al. (USPN 6,185,551 B1 – filed 06/1997).

Regarding independent claims 1, 4, and 7, Hill discloses:

An electric mail sending apparatus, comprising:

an attribute table storing a display form defined based on a terminal model name; accepting means for accepting a receiver's terminal model name that is input by a user; reading means connected to the attribute table and the accepting means for reading the display form defined based on the receiver's terminal model name from the attribute table (Hill on col. 2, lines 40-65 and col. 4, lines 1-16 teaches based on the capabilities of the display device, a style sheet is selected by the layout generator which defines format values for the format properties of the elements of the document and col. 6, lines 54-59 teaches style sheet defines format properties of the document (attributes));

displaying the text based on the display form read from the attribute table (See Figure 2 and Abstract from Hill which teaches dynamically adapting the layout of a document to a particular output device based on the capabilities of the output device) sending means (See Figure 2 on Hill for sending a document to the client 204 to be displayed on the output device (200) and See Figure 6 Server Sends Style sheet and document to client (610)).

However, Hill does not explicitly disclose “composing and editing a text of an electric mail” or “sending electric mail”.

Birrell does disclose “composing and editing a text of an electric mail and sending electric mail”, on col. 4, lines 21-41 and col. 15, lines 1-26 teaches composing and modifying web-based e-mail messages via a network.

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified Birrell into Hill to provide a web-based e-mail messaging system, as taught by Birrell, incorporated into the web documents of Hill, in order for the user to perform any mail service over the network.

Regarding dependent claims 2, 5, and 8, Hill discloses:

wherein the attribute table stores a number of lines that is displayable on a display screen of a receiver's terminal and a number of characters per line, the reading means includes number-of-character reading means for reading the number of lines that is displayable on the display screen of the receiver's terminal and the number of characters per line, and the display means includes means connected to the editing means and the number-of-character reading means for displaying the electric text based on the displayable number of lines and the number of characters per line that are read from the attribute table (Hill on col. 2, lines 40-65, col. 4, lines 1-16, and see Abstract teaches style sheet is selected by the layout generator; wherein the style sheet defines format values for the format properties of the elements of the document to be displayed to the output device (see Figure 2)).

However, Hill does not explicitly disclose “displaying the electric mail text”.

Birrell does disclose “displaying the electric mail text”, on col. 4, lines 21-41 and col. 15, lines 1-26 teaches composing and modifying web-based e-mail messages displayed on a composition window.

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified Birrell into Hill to provide a web-based e-mail messaging system, as taught by Birrell, incorporated into to the web documents of Hill, in order for the user to perform any mail service over the network.

Regarding dependent claims 3, 6, and 9, Hill discloses:

wherein the display means displays copy data of the electric text based on the display form read from the attribute table (See Figure 2 item 200 and Figure 4 item 414 shows the client renders document on output device using selected style sheet).

However, Hill does not explicitly disclose “displaying the electric mail text”.

Birrell does disclose “displaying the electric mail text”, on col. 4, lines 21-41 and col. 15, lines 1-26 teaches composing and modifying web-based e-mail messages displayed on a composition window.

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified Birrell into Hill to provide a web-based e-mail messaging system, as taught by Birrell, incorporated into to the web documents of Hill, in order for the user to perform any mail service over the network.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
